Subject: RE: Moving Expenses

I do not feel like I have all the facts but there are certainly enough to agree with your nervousness regarding the storage expenses. It seems, in the scenario you gave, that the storage was a key factor in the underlying facts. However, I think the following paragraph from page 8 of Pub. 521 is incitful:

Storage Expenses. You can include the cost of storing and insuring household goods and personal effects within any period of 30 consecutive days after the day your things are moved from your former home and before they are delivered to your new home.

Good luck
